Hello Birders

The sky was looking threatening as we approached Wannamal but by the time we reached the usual spot on the lake edge the clouds were breaking up. The lake was mirror-like and with a beach but the birds were congregating on the opposite side.

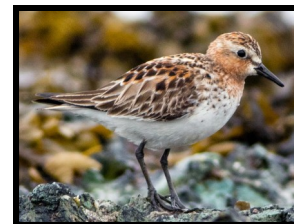

The lack of wind was ideal for use of a spotting scope and with Colin's keen eye catching a glimpse of movement through binoculars and then training the scope on the culprit the rest of us were able to eyeball a perfectly camouflaged Wood Sandpiper further along the shore. A first for the birding group.

Disappointingly the white fronted chats did not put in an appearance.

The next birding day is at the Landcare Centre at 5 pm.

Many thanks to Sue for stepping in to lead the walk.

Regards Rosanna and Sue
